

GovHub Defect Log:

Team 21 - Cole Compton, Christian McKain, Jacob Riggs, Julian Ng

| Defect No. | Defect Description | Defect Severity | Test Case No. or Description |
|------------|--|-----------------|---|
| 1 | GovHub logo upside down | Important | Visit the project url - simple visual bug |
| 2 | Sign up button on homepage redirects to google.com, to sign up, must go through "login" > "No account? Sign up" instead | Important | 28 |
| 3 | Clicking "Forgot your password?" and entering your email gives a message that says, "Your password has been reset", but does not send you an email | Important | 43 |
| 4 | No email is required to sign up/invalid emails can be used | Critical | 29 |
| 5 | Passwords need not match to sign up | Critical | 30 |
| 6 | After logging out, your name is still displayed in the top right corner | Workaround | Logout and see if your name is visible |

| 7 | The '@' symbol appears as a '👁' on the account info page | Workaround | 34 |
| 8 | Clicking "no" on the "Are you sure you want to delete your account" dialog still deletes your account | Critical | 42 |
| 9 | The change email feature changes the email displayed on the webpage, but does not actually change the email. Navigating away from and back to the page will show the old email | Critical | 34 |
| 10 | The issues on the My Issues page are all of the issues on the website, not just the ones you created | Critical | 7 |
| 11 | Using the filter feature to filter by category in the Issues page does not affect the issue display | Important | 23 |
| 12 | The category dropdown on the submit issues page has many empty fields | Important | 1 |

| | that can be selected | | |
| 13 | After clicking the Submit button on the Submit Issue page, the issue is created, but you are not redirected and the form is not cleared. This easily leads to the user creating duplicate issues if they press the button again thinking that it didn't work the first time | Critical | 1 |
| 14 | Using the delete issue button on the My Issues page deletes the issue, but it still displays on the page | Critical | 15 |
| 15 | Using the Add Comment button from the My Issues page works correctly, but when trying to add a comment from the Issues page, whatever is typed, the comment will simply read "comment" | Important | 9 |
| 16 | Clicking downvote on an issue you have not yet voted on will actually upvote the issue | Important | 11 |
| 17 | The default map | Important | 5 |

| | | | |
|----|--|------------|---|
| | location, even after allowing the website to access your location, is Kyrgyzstan, not West Lafayette | | |
| 18 | Filtering by location does not affect map display | Important | Type the address of an issue in the system and see if it is the only one displayed on the map |
| 19 | Able to create an email at exactly 3 characters long | workaround | Based on documentation the email must be greater than 3 to be successful |
| 20 | Marked notifications in the account section when clicking on my issues regardless if there is one | important | When going to the account tab there will be no notifications but after clicking my issues, both my issues and account will be marked after leaving account they disappear |
| 21 | Issues can be created in an area even if it | Important | One submit would be |

| | outside the correct area error appears | | prevented by rapid clicking bypasses the rule. |
| 22 | Downvote goes from being an int to a double | workaround | After creating 25 issues every new issue created will have a double for the number of downvotes instead of an int. Refreshing fixes this issue |
| 23 | Users not logged in can't see issues in the issues list | important | Going from the sign in page directly to the issues list will show now issues |
| 24 | Any date can be chosen when making an issue. | Workaround | When creating an issue, the date can be a ridiculous value such as 12/12/29992 |
| 25 | When setting password for new account, having a number and an uppercase letter is not required even though the site claims it is a requirement. | Workaround | Go to sign up page and attempt to make an account where the password does not contain an |

| 26 (Not necessarily a defect) | Can't have more than one tab open with different accounts. | Workaround | Attempt to login to one account in one tab and another in another tab and the account from the first tab will change to be the account on the second tab. |
| 27 | When issue is resolved, there is no way to get rid of notification. | Workaround | Use a user account to create an issue, then use an admin account to resolve the issue, and finally view the My Issues tab in order to silence the notification, but it will not be silenced. |
